

Working on the Client Side of Business Services

Careers in fields such as these require a combination of client relationship skills plus subject matter content in a given area. Some require a large amount of public contact; others are more data driven. Some of the job titles can lead to self-employment if that is desirable.

Admissions Representative

Meeting, Convention & Event Planner

Claims Adjustor

Nursing Home Consultant

Communication Manager

Organization Development Professional

Employee Assistance Professional

Property Manager

Energy Broker

Public Relations Specialist

Ergonomics Specialist

Real Estate Agent

Financial Planner

Recruiter

Genetics Counselor

Travel Agent or Tour Guide

Human Resources Professional

Training & Development Specialist

Implementation Consultant

Insurance Agent

Labor Relations Specialist

Logistics Analyst

Marketing Coordinator

Media Planner.